SAN SIMON RANCH, on the Pacific, half way between Los Angeles and San Francisco, Dec. 11.—Our Puritan ancestors believed that heaven was a happy place in which you thought only about yourself, worrying not at all about the torments of friends and relatives down below.

Exceptionally religious people believed that contemplation from above, of friends burning in hell, actually increased heaven's happiness.

LIFE ON THIS RANCH, with headquarters on a hill two thousand feet above the sea, has certain heavenly qualities.

You look westward across the ocean, and don't care much whether ladies and gentlemen on the jury in Los Angeles convict Ed McVey and send him to be killed or set him free to deal with some other lady and her jewelry.

YOU LOOK EAST over the mountains changing from the yellow California tint to the beautiful light green of the California Winter.

Contemplating the size of this magnificent cathedralizing ranch, 160,000 acres, running thirty miles along the Pacific, you forget the telephone, stock market, courts, politics, even money making.

YOU WONDER why Hearst, who owns this place, to which his father came before him, and who actually makes cattle raising pay, takes the trouble to edit newspapers and magazines, run news agencies, and fight politicians in more than a dozen American cities, when he might simply live here.

SOMEbody MENTIONS a well-known financial name, saying, "He is dead." Up here that seems less important than news that coyotes last night killed two more white dogs. They get the white dogs and fawns because they are so easily seen in the moonlight, when coyotes go murdering.

FOR THE MOMENT you would rather invent a method of killing all coyotes than a method of prolonging indefinitely the lives of all the conspicuous gentlemen in Wall Street.

THE MEN who work on this ranch—there are many of them—were born here or nearby. They think and feel that the ranch is theirs. They don't kindle at Hearst, the owner, as if to say, "Poor devil, he has to go away and work in the East."

MR. NIGEL KEEF walks up the steep hill carrying a dozen dead gophers, trapped the night before. They look like squirrels and like rats. They live in holes in the ground. They are microscopic vegetarian creatures, killing trees by gnawing them and gnawing the taproot as the coyotes kill fawns, partridges and pheasants.

RICHARD TAYLOR, who has charge of the eagles' camp, takes the freshly killed gophers and throws them into the American eagle. The eagles, living in a cage so big that a great live oak tree grows in the middle of it, catch the dead gophers in mid-air and devour them.

A captured eagle must eat what he can get.

THAT PINCHER, the eagles eat each one on a branch by itself.

Taylor, their keeper, says, "If that old eagle could talk he would say: 'If you will let me out of here, I will kill more gophers in a day than you can catch in a month.'"

WHEN YOU are up here, you can understand why Don Pancho, who owns the horse ranch, only went once to New York and never wants to go again.

"What is there to see or do?" he asks. He is right.

Partly cloudy today, with slowly varying temperature; light and variable winds; sea rises 7:04 a.m.; high tide 11:45 a.m.; low tide 5:45 p.m.

U. HONORABLE JUDGE

Police Chief as Blonde Flapper Traps Bootleggers
BOLD RUSE COYOTES REVEALED IN COURT
Radcliffe Girl Who Swallowed Poison Worcester Student Recovers After Attempt to End Life in "Pact"

City Marshal of Gloucester Posed as "Charmie" in Several Rum Parties

Gloucester, Dec. 12.—For a year local bootleggers and their customers got a big thrill out of many hours spent in the company of a bluff blonde.

For a year the police knew her as Sally and frequently speculated during the late night watches over the station house cribbage boards as to judge who she was.

Sally was comely, Sally was vivacious, Sally was charming company. Sally was voted by one and all as the who was on such subjects, one could laugh him down.

Just how much of a hum-dinger she really was, however, they didn't find out until today.

And they got one amazingly kick out of the discovery.

Only and reluctantly in court today, City Marshal John E. Parker admitted that for the last year he has successfully masqueraded as Sally and thus managed to be present in no less than twenty cases where liquor was sold.

In a blonde wig and stylish apparel he chummed with customers of bootleggers and induced them to buy liquor. Then he made little notes and wrote down.

REVEALS HIS RUSE.

He admitted the ruse when counsel for George Melrose, accused of bootlegging and selling liquor, asked how the Marshal had dared testify that he was present when Melrose was alleged to have committed the offense.

Parker told of being in an automobile disguised with a "sporter" who approached Melrose and bought liquor from him.

While several sturdy bootleggers whose cases had not yet been collected, almost faintly, the court ordered Melrose to pay a fine of $200.

The latter walked up to the clerk and paid the fine.

He was not humming "I Wonder What Became of Sally."

STOCKS REACH NEW HIGH POINT IN N. Y. MARKET

New York, Dec. 12.—A sharp reversal in price movements took place in today's stock market, reactionary tendency of the last few days disappearing in a broad buying movement that carried three dozen issues to new peak prices.

The list of new highs included such widely diversified issues as American Water Works, May Department Stores, United Drug, Continental Can, American Locomotive, Rockwell Machine and Tool Products.

MISS GRACE WILLIAMS
Worcester girl student at Radcliffe, who took mercury tablets in "suicide pact" with college chum, Margaret Scoggins of Falmouth. Both girls have recovered. Psychoanalysts are studying the death attempt of the young women.

STUDENT WHO GOMPERS GAINS, TOOK POISON JOKES WITH FRIENDS
ONLY 'FAIR'

The condition of Margaret Scoggins, one of the two Radcliffe College girls who took poison in a suicide pact, was said to be "only fair" at Cambridge Hospital today.

Apparently the nineteen-year-old junior had suffered a change for the better, as last night it was reported she would be discharged from the hospital today.

Her friend, Grace Williams, eighteen-year-old freshman, who lives at No. 64 Elm street, Worcester, was taken from the hospital yesterday by her mother to the home of an uncle Dr. E. H. Bignall, at Framingham.

A friendship was established at the hospital today concerning the condition of Miss Scoggins, and no information was forthcoming. It was learned, nevertheless, that her condition was not serious.

Mr. Gompers' condition is described as a bronchial trouble, complicated by a recurrence of his illness of some months ago. It has not been definitely diagnosed, his physician said, and whether there was evidence of pneumonia he was not prepared to say.

An official medical statement said the patient's respiration was 24 and his pulse normal at 74 m.

FIRST LADY OF DECEIT
ELEANOR THREAT

Mrs. Coolidge Made Doctor of Laws at Boston University Exercises
Witness Says W. J. Harnett Talked of Committing Suicide and Killing Her

By Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, Doctor of Laws, hereafter.

Before hundreds of spectators who packed the Old South Church in Copley square, Boston University today bestowed its "LL. D." on the First Lady of the Land, for proficiency as a student, university graduate, teacher, daughter, wife and mother.

At the same time the degree Doctor of Laws was conferred also on Dr. Martin Ballou, dean of women at the University of Chicago and a Boston University graduate.

The bestowal of honors on the two distinguished women occurred at the Fall convocation of the university during which Mrs. Lucy Jenkins was formally installed as university dean of women.

In conferring the degree on Mrs. Coolidge, President Lowell Martin of Boston University said:

"Grace (Goddess) Coolidge—student, university graduate, teacher, daughter, wife and mother; in every station exemplifying the finer qualities of mind and heart. I had most desire in your. Your own work proves you. You have gained the confidence and love of the American people."

"Upon the recommendation of the University Council, I have been authorized by the board of trustees of Boston University to admit you to the degree of Doctor of Laws."

LUNCHEON GUEST.

Accompanied by Mrs. Frank W. Stearns and Captain Andrews Andrews, commander of the presidential yacht, Mayflower and acting as the President's personal representative, Mrs. Coolidge attended a luncheon at the Copley Place, preceding the convocation ceremonies.

The luncheon was sponsored by President Martin to Mrs. Coolidge, Mrs. Franklin and Mrs. Talbot.

Then the First Lady dined and moved and was taken in an automobile from the Plaza to the Old South Church.

Here Mrs. Franklin, wife of President George H. Franklin of the Boston University College of Business Administration, was present.

She was the first of a series of gifts for a college building which she had donated to the university.

"It is hoped," he said, "that these gifts are the beginning of an end."

Fog Vanishes After Crooks Steal $100,000

London, Dec. 12.—England's sixty-hour fog, which made London a haven for pickpockets and burglars, lifted during the night and the metropolitan awoke today to the first daylight in three days.

Small thefts by climbers, known to the British police as "cats," approached 10,000 pounds sterling in the last two days. Burglaries for the week had reached a like amount.

Escapes in Hall of Lead

A hold fire through a plate glass window while revolver shots rang by him gained liberty today for a burglar trapped in a West Quinny drug store.

Leaving a trail of blood behind him from deep gulches cut by the broken glass, the burglar fled into the Blue 13110, where his trail was lost.

Behind him in the store he abandoned 1500 worth of merchandise, piled on the floor ready to take away.

Patrolman Angela Gordon of the Quinny police discovered the door of the A. G. Columbia drug store in Copeland street unlocked.

With drawn revolver he entered to investigate.

Inside one of the blackness a figure darted and headed for the front of the store. Patrolman Gordon followed, but he missed. Again and again he fired, but the burglar, hurling his body against the plate glass window, crashed through and fled.

NEW ANGLES IN 'BASEBALL SLUSH FUND'

"New angles" have been discovered in the investigation of the alleged $100,000 slush fund said to have been raised to insure the passage of Sunday professional baseball law.

Attorney General Benton announced today.

Developments are looked for soon, although Mr. Benton refused to amplify his statement.

Inspector John F. Mitchell of the Attorney General's office, who was sent to New York to investigate that end of the affair, has submitted a partial report. Inspector Mitchell will return in a few days to New York for further investigation.

PHONE RAISE BANNED TILL APRIL 1

By action of the Department of Public Utilities today the telephone company has been restrained from allowing its proposed new schedule of increased rates to go into effect until next April 1.

The department announced that it had been decided to investigate the propriety of allowing the increases which had been scheduled to take effect January 1. The increases were to be State-wide and ranged from 23 per cent to, in some cases, 100 per cent.

URGES BOARD OF EXPERTS TO DECIDE CASES

If you were sadly afflicted; if you were incurable and in an agony of pain and had pleaded and prayed your doctor to give to you a kindly dose to end it all—and were refused—what would you think of humanity?

"For three years he has begged me daily to help him out of his misery but I am helpless. It is against the law."

OPPOSITION TO PLAN

But in spite of the protesting that such deaths should be legalized, Dr. Christian does not believe that any such case will ever be accepted here.

"I believe," he said, "that religious and other scruples, both among professional men and the laity, will not sanction the humanitarian move. Perhaps within twenty-five years public opinion will be educated to it a great deal more than now, but it is certainly something that must be handled and discussed with delicacy."

TO REACH DECISION

Such is the plan advanced by Dr. Christian as the last means of reaching a decision. If all parties, including the patient, agree that death is best in such the incurable and hopeless suffering—then either should be administered in an overdose.

As an outstanding example in support of his contention, the Back Bay surgeon cited the case of an eight-year-old Boston boy, now a patient in Dr. Christian's private hospital, but without hope of ever being cured.

"I took a large tumor out of his head three years ago," said Dr. Christian today. "It was a malignant, cancerous growth that was driving him insane."

"I have treated him several times a day for three years, free of charge, using feeding and housing him free."

"Now the nodes of this tumor are being struck into the brain. The man suffers the most excruciating pain, his mental functions are breaking down and there is no hope that

ROXBURY HAS TWO EARLY MORNING FIRES

Two early morning fires in Roxbury caused damage estimated at $2,000 today.

The first was in the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Store, No. 345 Centre street, where the blaze of sudden origin, caused a loss of $700, and the Cleveland Lunch Co., 325-331 Dudley street. The lunchroom fire was said to have been started by an overturned furnace and caused damage of $500.

BROADCAST OF PHONE RAISE CASE ASKED

The hearing on the proposed telephone rate increases will be broadcast and the subscribers who listen in will be given an opportunity to vote in a referendum on the increase, if the suggestion of Wendell C. Marshall of Waverly is adopted.

Henry C. Attefall, chairman of the Department of Public Utilities, said today that he had no objection to the proposal.

Mr. Marshall is said to have embodied his plan in a letter to the Public Utilities Department, addressed to Mr. Attefall, but had not seen the letter today.

The proposal is to have the arguments of all sides and the summing up by the commission broadcast. Then, Mr. Marshall suggested, general luminaires be sent to every subscriber fitted in the telephone book in order that having heard the proceedings he may vote on the application for a raise.

Mr. Marshall points out that the telephone company, which has expended so much money on publicity in order to acquaint subscribers with the need for higher rates, which it holds exists, ought not to be surprised to find at least a part of the expense of the broadcasting.

SEVEN KIDDIES ASK DAD AD CHRISTMAS

Although they are not very happy that they can recall the face of a father who deserted his family more than two years ago, and induce him to return and spend Christmas with them, the seven children of Mrs. C. Garnache, the Boston American appealed to him today to play Santa Claus, even from afar, to give them the Christmas that is the heritage of childhood.

Garnache left the thirty-three-year-old wife Katherine, in their little home at No. 3 Crosby street, Lynn, in October, 1922, and went away, she told the police, with the well-to-do widow of a shoe manufacturer. She has not heard from him since.

Four days after her husband vanished, leaving her with exactly $4.00, twice were born to Mrs. Garnache. One of the twins died within a few days and while his little body lay in an improvised coffin in the kitchen of their home. Mrs. Garnache dragged herself about the house in an effort to prepare food for the other little ones.

Here is the appeal of the Garnache youngsters to their father: "Won't you send us some money for Christmas so that we may get our stockings filled by Santa Claus as other children do?"

"Last year we spent a cold, cheerless Christmas, saddened by the death of one of the twins you have never seen—and poor Louise gone."

"This year the outlook is again gloomy. One more baby to love the twin and one more stocking for Santa Claus."

"Not enough clothes to dress for cold weather, not enough clothes to keep warm at night, not enough coal to keep a fire, and only one girl working at $10 a week."

"Surely you will not let us suffer a Christmas like last year's."

"If you cannot come and spend Christmas with us, will you at least remember us and play Santa Claus for us by sending home some money?"

The children are Evelyn, Roy, Martin, Walter, Clyde, Richard and little Kathleen. Another child, Louise, has died since the father disappeared.

CAPTAIN LOST: LINER MAY HAVE BEEN SUNK

New York, Dec. 12.—The captain of the Italian liner Concordia has been lost at sea and the vessel itself may have been wrecked in the opinion of Captain Konrad Luck of the Hamburg-American line. Westphalia, which arrived two days late, after a stormy crossing, was unable to get a radio response to offers of assistance from the Concordia a few minutes after the Italian liner had reported its captain lost in a battle for life's

FARMERS ARE RICH IN WESTERN CANADA

Winnipeg, Man., Dec. 12.—Farmers of Western Canada will have $175,000,000 more to spend this year than they had in 1913, because of higher prices for wheat, according to estimates of financial experts. Bankers throughout the prairie provinces report that many of the farmers who produced this wealth have already met their obligations, are entirely out of debt and have good bank accounts with which to face another year.

GERMANY WILL NOT EXHIBIT AT PARIS

Berlin, Dec. 12.—Germany will not be represented at the French exhibition of industrial and technical arts next year. The Cabinet has decided that the nation's finances are in such a state as to warrant the expenditure which would be involved in representation commensurate with the significance of German industry and also because there is not sufficient time for the preparation of an exhibit.

FIREMAN DEAD, $200,000 LOSS, IN BLAZE

Middletown, N. Y., Man Expires Fighting Fire; Two Buildings Destroyed

Middletown, N. Y., Dec. 12.—One fireman is dead, another is in a hospital in a serious condition and several others suffered injuries as the result of a fire which swept through two downtown buildings today, causing the losses estimated at $200,000.

Detmer Alfred P. Bradford was stricken with heart disease on the roof of a building and died. George C. Hennessey is threatened with the loss of both eyes as the result of wounds caused by flying glass.

Patronus L. J. came by smoke, but was revived. The fire department arrived and spread to the adjoining brick building of the McSherry Furniture Company.

M'COY WEARS LOCKET OF MOTHER AT TRIAL

EX-PUGILIST FIGHTING FOR LIFE

The Kid's attorneys were prepared to defend him from prosecution (testimony intended to support the contention that McRoy killed Mrs. Moore took her jewels and stole away to the home of his sister, Mrs. Jennie Thomas, and left her the jewels in a hastily scuffled way).

The defense attorneys were ready to show that Mrs. Moore was killed by a poisoned husband, Albert Moore, an antique dealer.

Mr. McRoy has not changed his original story that Mrs. Moore committed suicide in his presence while also occupied an apartment with him under a fictitious name.

Chief among those called to the stand to tell of McRoy's weird and various appearances at widely separated places during the night of the slaying was Mrs. Thomas. Laboring under great emotional strain and testifying in a faint, quivering voice, she failed to remember exactly what her brother said when he came in her home, disheveled, drunk and despondent.

RAW OYSTER BAN BECAUSE OF TYPHOID

Health Commissioner Warns Public to Consume Only Cooked Sea Food

It must not eat oysters and make sure they are cooked," said Health Commissioner Mahoney, today sent the warning to the public, because of the latest increase in the number of typhoid cases reported from oysters of the large cities, where in the past the increase in cases was assumed the proportions of typhoid.

Not only have the outbreaks of typhoid become more numerous, but the disease has been more severe with an increasing number of deaths.

Just for, this year, Boston has had a number of cases reported," said Commissioner Mahoney. "The habit of eating oysters, alone, and other food in the raw state, would seem to have a claim for responsibility for much of the typhoid cases which have been occurring in the city."

These and oysters are very easily contaminated by sewerage and it is always safer to eat them cooked," Dr. Mahoney said.

RE-ALLOCATION OF BROADCAST IS GIVEN UP

Commerce Department Waits More Stable Conditions in the Radio Art

Washington, Dec. 12.—Recent developments in the radio broadcasting field, emphasizing its present unsettled and indeterminate status, have caused the commerce department to abandon plans for carrying out the re-allocation of wave lengths recommended to Secretary Hoover by the recent national radio conference.

Department officials in making their decision, said the situation had been so complicated by an unprecedented number of applications for licenses for broadcasting stations since the conference that the re-allocation plan had to be discarded. While the chief purpose of the plan was to make available more wave lengths in the great center of population, most of the recent applications have been for stations in less densely populated districts, which was said to have emphasized the inadequate provision made for those.

The department, pending arrival at more stable conditions in the broadcasting art, will continue to meet the increasing demands of stations as far as possible, it was said, believing that no broad re-allocation plan is feasible at this time.

Wife Selects 60-Day Term for Husband Who Beat Her

New York, Dec. 12.—Magistrate Golden in Bridge Plaza Court, Brooklyn, told Mrs. Florence Pemberton of Brooklyn that she might impose whatever sentence she saw fit as a Christmas present to her husband, John, whom she charged with beating her and attempting to throw her from the window of their home.

Mrs. Pemberton said that a sentence of sixty days would do for her husband.

"That's your Christmas present," said Magistrate Golden to Pemberton.

WOMEN FIGHT SHOE UNION 'BLACKLIST'

Lynn Workers Sue Labor Leaders Charging They Kept Them Out of Work

Lynn, Dec. 12.—A hearing in a suit brought by four women attorneys against the officers of the Amalgamated Shoe Workers of America and the Hitters Local of that organization, in which they charge the union was concerted to prevent them from getting employment, will be in Superior Court next Friday.

The four women, Mary J. Stoney, Minnie E. Brock, Margaret E. Wicks, and Julia A. McCarthy, all of Lynn, have been granted a temporary injunction ordering the union to refrain from interfering with their employment.

Labor officials have pointed against them, the women allege, because they have refused to join the union. They have been employed in several Lynn shoe factories, they assert and charge that the defendants conspired to keep them out of work.

The defendants named in the suits are: Walter H. Wood and James B. Coleman, president and secretary of the Amalgamated Shoe Workers.

WIFE'S LAWYER CALLED THIEF BY WITNESS

Garvey Qualifies Statement, but Court Was Thrown Into Up-or-Down

After William F. Garvey, was veteran and former health department employee at Framingham, had thrown the Middlesex Probate Court into an uproar by calling Judge Edward L. McManus a thief, Garvey's better judgment asserted itself and he qualified his general remarks.

Judge McManus was appearing as counsel for Garvey's wife, Catherine, who is suing for separate support on the charge of cruelty.

Garvey was on the stand, when Judge McManus waived several promissory notes before the witness. It was then the veteran accused the judge of stealing the notes from him.

After the witness and the attorney exchanged further remarks Garvey qualified by declaring: "Well, you probably know about them if you didn't steal them."

The judge explained to the court the notes were furnished him by his client.

CHRISTMAS with us means UNUSUAL THINGS

Niles and bedroom slippers, for instance. Many are to be found. Most of them seem useful—but usual. We have a French basketry weave at $3; we have a slipper in bright red or blue kid trimmed with white fur at $4; we have a fanciful, made of metal, brocade at $9. All of them are serviceable and unusual.

Everyone counts hospitality a blessing when it comes as a gift. Why not send a value box of Thayer McNeil's fine merchandise, specially fitted with Christmas trimmings, free parcel post to any state in the Union. A box of three pairs of regular $1.95 guaranteed silks at $5. A box of three pairs of regular $2.50 chiffons at $6.50. Plain or assorted colors.

For the men—we recommend useful things—but let the things of everyday be unusual. Sport hosiery from Scotland or Belgium, a plaid scarf, a pair of dress shoes in faultless taste ($10), a pair of lounging slippers, in the most comfortable style—all these things are usual—but the value of Thayer McNeil and the extra care in buying make them unusual.
